In May

By Alice Baker

The rain that's falling soft and slow
Has set the tulip bed aglow,
 A flaming mass of color.
And, oh, the yellow and the red
Against the blackness of the bed –
 The garden seems enchanted.

And how the tiny rose leaves shine,
So new and wet, and on the vine
 A tiny yellow warbler.
And in my heart I bend my knee
To Him who made such things to be –
 So exquisite and tender.

May Baskets

By Annette Wynne

In other lands the children bring
May baskets for the first of spring,
And hang them on a lady's door
To say that spring is here once more;
And when the lady comes to see
What all the sound outside may be,
She's glad; that's the way
The Swedish children keep the May.
But we can do kind things and sing
And tell our way the joy of spring.
